PROBLEM STATEMENT

In the context of a student portfolio, a problem statement typically refers to a concise description of a specific issue, challenge, or opportunity that a student has addressed or explored through their work. It's particularly relevant when the portfolio showcases projects, research, or solutions to real-world problems.

PROJECT OVERVIEW

In a student portfolio, a project overview serves as a concise summary or introduction to a specific project. It's designed to give the viewer a quick but comprehensive understanding of the project's essence without them having to delve into all the details immediately.

WHO ARE THE END USERS?

The context of a student portfolio, end users are the people who will view, evaluate, or benefit from the portfolio. They are essentially the audience or recipients of the portfolio's content.
